

Purpose

The purpose of this quick reference guide is to step through the process of allocating Shifts to a Work Schedule using the Work Schedule Manager. The intended audience for this document are Standard Payroll Users.

Steps

Allocate Shifts to a Work Schedule

Once Work Schedule records are created, existing Shift Records can be allocated to the Work Schedule to define the Shifts that apply. While the Work Schedule Manager is in Edit Mode, there are 2 methods to Allocate Shifts:

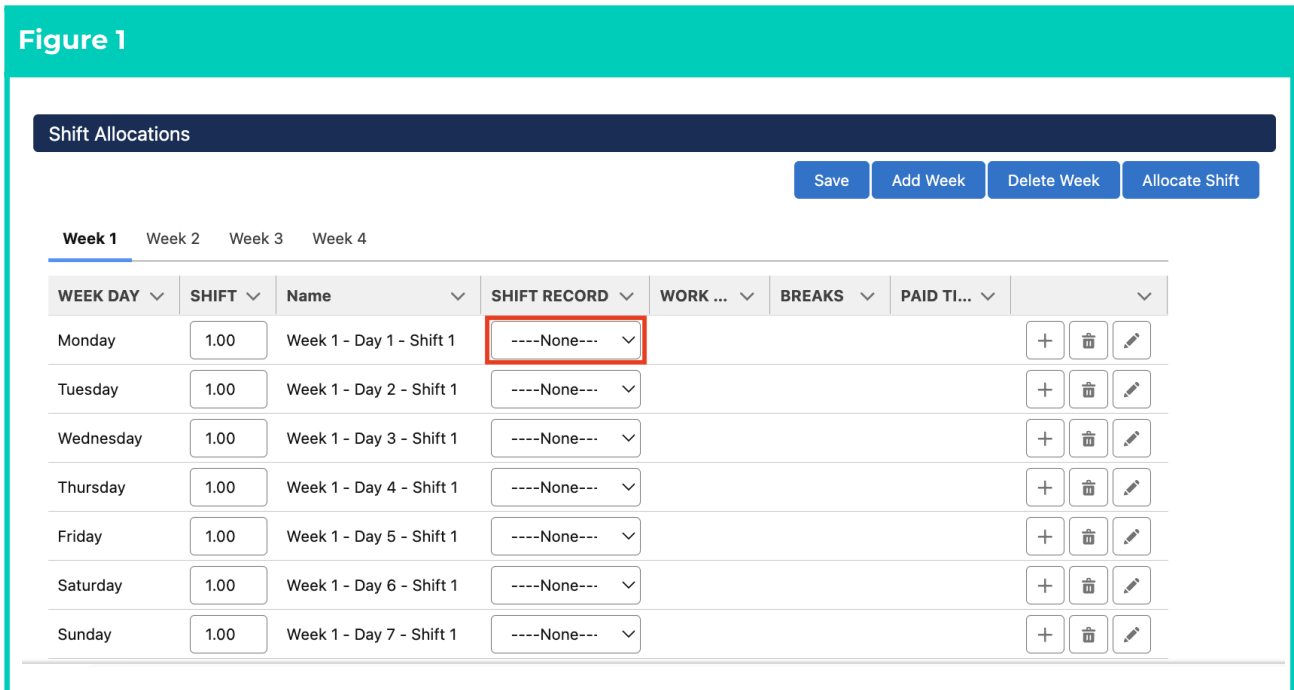

1. The Picklist option, available in the Weekly Lists under the Shift Allocation section of the Work Schedule Manager, allows allocation on a day by day basis.
2. The Allocate Shift Page option, available through both the Shift Allocation and Shift Records sections of the Work Schedule Manager, enables the allocation of existing Shift Records on a repetitive / sequence work pattern basis.

Allocate Shifts to a Work Schedule Using the Picklist method

To assign or edit Shift Allocations for individual days listed in the Weekly List displayed within the Shift Allocation section:

1. While the Work Schedule is in Edit Mode, navigate to the Shift Allocations section of the Work Schedule Manager (see Figure 1).
2. Within the Weekly List displayed, navigate to a daily record that needs a Shift Record assigned, or changed.

The screenshot shows the 'Shift Allocations' section of the Work Schedule Manager. At the top, there are buttons for 'Save', 'Add Week', 'Delete Week', and 'Allocate Shift'. Below these are tabs for 'Week 1', 'Week 2', 'Week 3', and 'Week 4'. The main table displays the weekly list with columns: WEEK DAY, SHIFT, Name, SHIFT RECORD, WORK ..., BREAKS, and PAID TI... The 'SHIFT RECORD' column for Monday is highlighted with a red box, showing a picklist with '----None---' selected. To the right of each row are icons for adding, deleting, and editing.

WEEK DAY	SHIFT	Name	SHIFT RECORD	WORK ...	BREAKS	PAID TI...
Monday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 1 - Shift 1	----None---
Tuesday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 2 - Shift 1	----None---
Wednesday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 3 - Shift 1	----None---
Thursday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 4 - Shift 1	----None---
Friday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 5 - Shift 1	----None---
Saturday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 6 - Shift 1	----None---
Sunday	1.00	Week 1 - Day 7 - Shift 1	----None---

3. Click on the Shift Record picklist to view the available Shift Records. Only Shift Records that have a matching Shift Time Format and Break Time Format to the Work Schedule will be listed for selection. They will be sorted based on the Last Modified Date of the Shift Record (see Figure 2).
4. Scroll down and select the required Shift Record.

Each day must have a Shift Record allocated to it even if no work will be done on that day. In that scenario, you will be required to assign the Day Off Shift Record.

Allocate Shifts to a Work Schedule Using the Allocate Shift Record Page

To complete Shift Record allocations against multiple days, on a repetitive / sequenced basis, using the Allocate Shift Record Page:

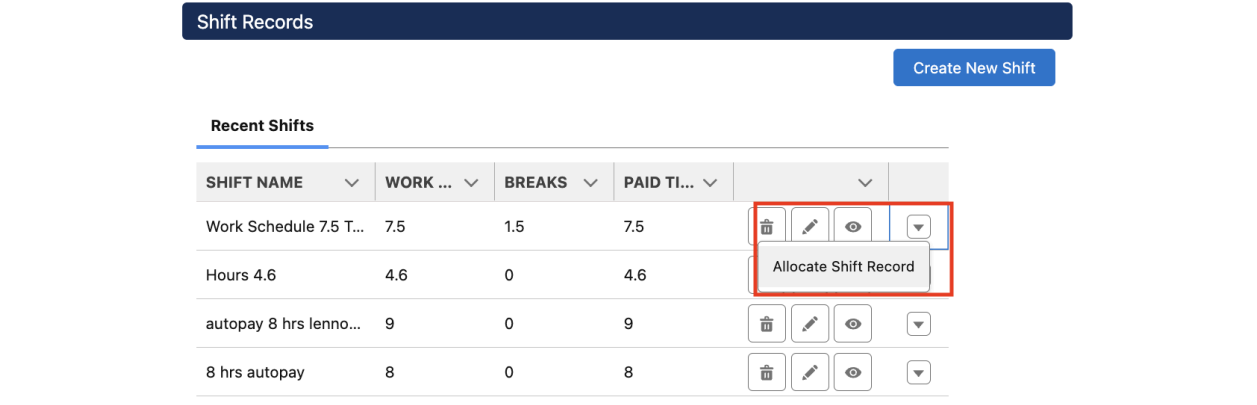

1. Open the Allocate Shift Record Page. This can be completed via 2 methods while the Work Schedule is in Edit Mode:
 - a. Navigate to the Shift Allocations section of the Work Schedule Manager (see Figure 4)
 - i. Click on the Allocate Shift button: or

Figure 4

- b. Navigate to the Shift Records section of the Work Schedule Manager (see Figure 5)
 - i. Click on the action button  against a relevant Shift Record.
 - ii. Select the Allocate Shift Record option.

Figure 5

2. Populate the Shift Record Name in the Search by Shift Record Name field. This can be the whole name or part of the name (see Figure 6).
3. Click on the Search button.
4. Select the Shift Record to be allocated from the list displayed.
5. Define which weeks within the Work Schedule the Shift Allocation will be applied to, using the Repeat for Week: From and To fields.
6. Select the days of the week that the Shift Allocation will be applied for the weeks defined in Step 5. Select the Days by clicking on the  buttons.
7. Click on the Ok button.

When populating the Day fields within the Allocate Shift Record Page, consider that Day 1 will always represent the Work Schedule First Day.
